

A-dec delivery styles

A-dec offers a broad range of solutions for a variety of treatment room styles and sizes. Whether you perform two-handed, four-handed, or six-handed dentistry, whether you work on the left- or right- side of the patient chair, and whether you prefer trans-thorax, side, or 12 o'clock delivery systems, there's an A-dec configuration that fits your style of dentistry. The graphics below represent A-dec's available mounting locations for both handpiece and assistant's instrumentation delivery. Discovering the right approach for your practice is simple. It begins with examining the delivery choices we offer, choosing the style you prefer, then meeting with your local A-dec dealer who will help you turn these possibilities into successful solutions for your practice.
